

English Speaking Countries

Hello, I am Mr Homer and my favourite English speaking country is the United Kingdom because it is where I was born. The countryside there is very beautiful. The thing I like most about the UK is the people, who are always friendly and very funny.

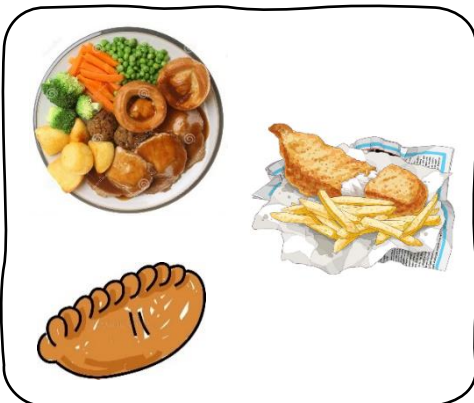

FLAG AND FACTS

The flag of the UK is called the Union Jack. If you come from the UK, you are British or a Brits for short. The capital city is London, but my favourite city is Manchester. There are many ways that British people greet other, but I usually say, 'hey up' or 'alright mate'.

FAMOUS FOOD

I love eating British food like fish and chips and Cornish pasties, but my favourite is the roast dinner with chicken and Yorkshire Puddings. We usually have a 'roast' on Sundays

DID YOU KNOW? - FUN FACTS

1. The Queen might wish you a happy birthday when you reach 100 years old
2. The London MTR, called 'the tube' is the first and largest underground system in the world

English Speaking Countries

Hello, I am Mr. Young, and my favorite English-speaking country is The United States of America because it was where I was born. What I like the best about the USA are the many beautiful places and wonderful people who live there.

FLAG AND FACTS

This is the flag of the USA. It is called the stars and stripes. People from the USA are called Americans and the capital city of the country is Washington DC. Americans have many diverse ways of greeting each other, but I usually say, "Hey, what's up?" to my friends.

The American Flag

FAMOUS FOOD

Thanksgiving, every year in November Americans have a special dinner of turkey and many other side dishes. The USA is also the home of the Hamburger!

DID YOU KNOW? - FUN FACTS

1. There are fifty stars on the flag, which is one for every state in the country, so the American flag has changed over the years.
2. The southern state of Florida is home to the original Disney World theme park.

English Speaking Countries

Hello, I am Miss Nimaga and my favourite English speaking country is New Zealand because there are many fun outdoor activities such as skydiving and ziplining to do there. New Zealand is also famous for its beautiful landscapes, sceneries and friendly people.

FLAG AND FACTS

The flag of New Zealand is called New Zealand Ensign. People from New Zealand are called New Zealanders, or Kiwis for short. The capital city is called Wellington, which is also my favourite city. People in New Zealand usually greet each other by saying 'How are you?' or 'Kia ora'.

FAMOUS FOOD

My favourite food is called Hangi. It is made of meat and vegetables, which are slow cooked in an underground oven.

DID YOU KNOW? - FUN FACTS

1. The name Kiwi comes from the name of a bird which is the national symbol of New Zealand.
2. There are about 9 sheep per each person in New Zealand. So, a population of 4.8 million people means there are over 43 million sheep in New Zealand!